

Tokyo Institute of Technology

Tokyo Tech is the top national university for science and technology in Japan with a history spanning 140 years. Of the approximately 10,500 students at the Ookayama, Suzukakedai, and Tamachi campuses, half are in their bachelor's degree program while the other half are in master's and doctoral degree programs. The approximate number of international students is 1,700. There are 1,200 faculty and 600 administrative and technical staff members.

In the 21st century, the role of science and technology universities has become increasingly important. Tokyo Tech continues to develop global leaders in the fields of science and technology, and contributes to the betterment of society through its research, focusing on solutions to global issues. The institute's long-term goal is to become the world's leading science and technology university.
