◆ Studying at Niigata University

Exchange students may select subjects in the areas (1) to (3) shown below.

Each subject sets eligibility requirements for auditing as well as a maximum capacity for enrollment, and adopts either manual selection/lottery or automatic lottery selection. Students will apply for subjects using the Student Web System via online, and will be enrolled with permission by an instructor in charge. Due to reasons including a maximum capacity, a lottery result, and eligibility requirements, students may not always be permitted to take subjects that they had wished to take. It is advisable to plan well ahead of time and inquire if need be.

Syllabi outlining objectives and other details of each subject can be found at the following website.

- (2) Based on the transcript issued by NU, students’ home university will determine whether to accept transfer of the credits. Students are strongly advised to consult their home university regarding credit transfer before applying for this program as transfer of credits is authorized by their home university. Check each subject’s syllabus for the number of credit it confers. Japanese language learning subjects offer one credit for approximately 15 class sessions.

- (3) An academic transcript will be issued according to NU’s official schedule. It cannot be issued earlier than these dates.

Month in which the program ends:	Academic transcript will be issued after:

August	October 1 of the same year

◆Required Number of Class Sessions

By Japanese law, international students with a “student visa” are required to audit more than a total of 10 hours (600 minutes) of class sessions per week. Since each class session of NU is 90-minutes long, international students must ensure that they have a sufficient number of subjects that allows them to attend at least 7 class sessions per week.

◆Student Housing

Exchange students of International Education Center will study at Ikarashi Campus, and will be eligible to apply via online for an apartment room (single room) in the neighboring areas of Ikarashi campus before coming to Japan through a service called “Co-op Leased Apartments Supported by Niigata University.” Students may select a room according to their preference, and a monthly rent will vary by rooms. Detailed application procedures will be announced after students are accepted to the program. Visit the following website for further information on “Co-op Leased Apartments Supported by NU.”

◆Expenses during Study in Japan

About 80,000 YEN will cost monthly for living (monthly rent, utilities, food, etc.) in addition to travel expenses to NU, as well as various initial expenses when moving into an apartment room. ◆Part-time Jobs

To participate in this program, students must prepare a sufficient budget to pay for expenses for studying in Japan. It is important that students are able to focus on studies and to live with peace of mind, having no serious concerns about money.

Having a part-time job is not recommended; however, if students wish to have one, there is a procedure to be followed. Some part-time jobs may accompany risks and danger which students may not be aware of at first hand. In order to protect international students from being involved in unwanted incidents or troubles, students are required to meet with the director of International Education Center, and go over job responsibilities and working conditions before being employed. Students should consult International Office when selecting a part-time job, or when changing a part-time job.

Note that “Permission to engage in activity other than that permitted under the status of residence previously granted” which is issued by Immigration Services Agency of Japan will be needed in order to be employed as a part-time worker.
