Dear Professor Ushiki,

On the celebration of the 75th anniversary of Niigata University, I, on behalf of Chulalongkorn University, would like to extend my congratulations to you, your faculty and staff, as well as your students. This special occasion is a milestone that reflects your institution's dedication to academic excellence, research leadership, and service to society.

Our universities have built a strong and productive partnership, marked by the active student mobility between us. It has promoted student exchanges that have not only offered valuable educational and cultural experiences for our students but have also further strengthened the connection between our communities.

In addition, our collaboration on the G-DROM (Co-Creative Dormitory-type Group-work for SciTech Students in Japan and the Mekong Countries with Regional Collaboration) program has been particularly fruitful. It has provided students in the program with unique opportunities to apply their academic knowledge to practical settings, consequently enriching their learning experience a great deal.

In celebration of this significant anniversary, Niigata University has proven to have come a long way from the day of its inception. Chulalongkorn University looks forward to continued academic and research collaborations with you in the areas that should mutually benefit both sides and the public at large.

Once again, congratulations on your institution's seventy-five years of outstanding achievements. I wish Niigata University continued success in all its future endeavors.

Yours sincerely,

Professor Wilert Puriwat, D.Phil.
